

PATTERN FOR CHILD'S APRON.

BY EMILY H. MAY.

This is a very pretty pattern for the apron of a young child, say about two years of age. It is in three parts, the front, the back and the sleeve.

One or two persons, having complained that they did not know how to enlarge our patterns, we will explain. The process is very simple.

To enlarge the front of this apron, take a piece of paper, about the size you suppose the pattern will be, and draw the line A B, making it fifteen inches long. Then, with a card, measure the angle B A H. Then draw the line A H, twelve inches long. Then measure the angle A H G, and, in like manner, draw the line H C nine inches and a half long. In this way proceed till the whole pattern is enlarged. The only places, where there is the least difficulty, is in rounding the parts about the shoulder and arm-pit; here the eye must be the guide; but if all the rest of the pattern is done, there will be no difficulty.

BABY'S HOOD IN SILK AND SHETLAND WOOL.

BY MRS. PULLAN.

MATERIALS.—Half an ounce of wool; four skeins of white purse twist, rather fine; steel hook No. 18.

With white silk make a chain of 42 stitches, then work 1 treble stitch into the 38th chain, (a), 2 chain and 1 treble again into the 3rd from the last treble; repeat from (a) to the end of the chain.
