DIRECTIONS FOR MAKING A WILL.

A will cannot be made in language too simple or concise; it must be written with ink, on paper or parchment; and, if contained on one sheet, must be signed at the end by the testator in the presence of two or more witnesses; and, if written on more than one sheet, the testator and the witnesses had better sign each sheet.
 The witnesses must rigidly comply with every particular required by the attestation clause, at the end of which clause they must sign their names.
 A codicil to a will is to be made with the same regulations as the will itself, and may be written thus:—This is a codicil to my last will and testament, bearing date the .. day of .. 18 .., and which I direct to be taken as part thereof. I give, devise, and bequeath, &c. As witness my hand this .. day of ..
 Obliterations or alterations are dangerous, and when of necessity made, ought to be signed by the testator and witnesses.
 Marriage after making a will renders the will void.
 It is not indispensable for a witness to know the contents of a will, which may be so folded as to prevent any other portion than the signature and attestation clauses being read.
