gain. I've made the house so neat and trim; The win - ter flow'rs look bright : He'll see them as he sits be-side His own fire-side to - night. He's com - ing, he's com - ing, And what will he say? And what will he tell me On this hap - py day? And what will he tell me On this hap - py day?

2. The house has seemed so still and sad, The days have been so long; But now he's com - ing, and all the world Seems e - cho - ing my song: And who shall run to let him in, Who first his face shall see? Ah! sure - ly I that love him so: He's com-ing home for me. He's com-ing, he's com-ing, I can hear my heart beat; Oh, it's al - most like sor - row when meet - ing's so sweet! It is al - most like sor - row when meet - ing's so sweet!
