

A Sailor's Bride.

Words by J. T. BURTON WOLLASTON.

Moderato (♩ = 96).

Music by GERARD F. COBB.

PIANO.

mf

mf S. Semplice, ma con espressione.

1. "Till Jack comes home a - gain from sea, I'll keep my heart for him;..... The lamp of love that
2. maid was fair, and lov - ers came And sought to win her hand,..... And call'd her ev - 'ry mf S. cres. f mf burns for me Shall nev - er more grow dim."..... Thus sigh'd a lit - tle maid one eve, As ten - der name There is at Love's com - mand..... But un - to all who came she cried, "Your

p

poco rall. cres. rall - en - tan - do.

sad as sad could be,..... "For oh! my heart will sore - ly grieve Till Jack comes home from love is nought to me,..... For nev - er shall I be a bride Till Jack comes home from poco rall. cres. colla voce.

1st time. mf 8. 2nd time.

sea!".....
sea!".....

2. The

mf cres.

3. The months went by: there came a tale Of ship-wreck on the coast; A ship had foun-der'd

p in the gale, With him she loved the most;..... And yet the lit-tle maid-en cried, As poco rall. cres.

sad as sad could be,..... "I still shall be a sail-or's bride, When Jack comes home from deciso. rall. ad lib.

sea!..... I still shall be a sail-or's bride, When Jack comes home, comes home from sea!"