

The Two Little Toads.

Words from "BO-PEEP."

Music by CHARLES BASSETT.

Met. ♩. = 64. With humour. mfpcres.

VOICE.

1. Oh! two lit-tle toa-dies went out for a walk, out for a walk, out for a walk, And
 2. So they took it in turns each to car-ry the other, car-ry the other, car-ry the other, Young
 3. Then each lit-tle toa-die he tucked in his toes, tucked in his toes, tucked in his toes, And

PIANO.

mfpcres.

arm in arm they had a nice talk, had a nice talk, had a nice talk; Till they Spec-kle-ty first, and then his fat brother, then his fat brother, then his fat brother; At lay neath the rush-es un-til the moon rose, till the moon rose, till the moon rose; And the saw an old owl grave-ly sit-ting in state, sit-ting in state, sit-ting in state, And last they reached home, and each of them said, each of them said, each of them said, "In a li-ly-bells chimed in the pale moon-light, pale moon-light, pale moon-light, And the then they knew it was get-ting late, get-ting late, get-ting late.

 bur-dock leaf I must cool my head, cool my head, cool my head."
 birds all whispered, "Good-night, good-night, Dear lit-tle toa-dies, good-night, good-night."