Victorian Image Collection: FLORAL & MUSHROOM PRINTS

This preview brings you thumbnail images of our complete Floral & Mushroom Prints art package.

Please note that these are thumbnails only and not to scale. Thus, you may find a 2-inch image side-by-side with an 8-inch image – and they'll appear exactly the same size. Our purpose is to simply provide an overview of what our package contains.

This preview also includes our license agreement and list of image sources.

Victorian Art Print Collection: Floral & Mushroom Prints

This collection brings you 126* fully edited, full-color art prints of Flowers & Mushrooms (plus 40 bonus b/w images from Hulme's Familiar Wildflowers), from the following sources:

BOP – Boy's Own Paper, London, as dated (magazine)

FWGG - Floral World & Garden Guide, 1873, edited by Shirley Hibbard, London, Groombridge & Sons (magazine)

GOP – The Girl's Own Paper, London, as dated (magazine)

H&H – House & Home, 1896 – A two-volume book published by Charles Scribners, NY

ILA - Illustrated London Almanack, London, as dated (magazine)

ING - Ingalls Home Magazine, Lynn, MA (1888, 1889)

LBF - Lady's Book of Flowers and Poetry, NY, 1841

LOF - Language of Flowers (two books, undated)

May - Mayflower Magazine, US, as dated

PET or P – Peterson's Magazine, US, as dated

VSA – Victorian Scrap Album, generally undated

WDE - Willich's Domestic Encyclopedia, 1802

WF – Familiar Wild Flowers, by F. Edward Hulme, Cassell, 1900

USDA – Mushroom Prints published in 1890 and 1891 by the USDA, from a Victorian Scrap Album

Edited prints are restored as nearly as possible to their original state – just as they were first published, with the ravages of age and the damages of a century of readership painstakingly corrected.

The majority of these prints are presented at 600 dpi, and, of course, at their full, original size. They are ideal for framing, art projects, scrapbooking, classroom use and more. Enjoy!

VictorianVoices.net Image User Agreement

Our images and prints come from sources in the public domain. That means we cannot and do not claim “copyright ownership” of individual images. It also means that no one else can claim copyright to these images - including you, even if you alter them.

We’ve seen collections with highly restrictive license agreements - collections that only allow you to make a limited number of copies, or use images only for personal projects, etc. We have no such restrictions (and we’re not even sure such restrictions are legal!).

You may use our images for any sort of project you wish. You may use them for personal projects or for commercial products. You may use as many images as you wish, and you may make as many copies of an individual image as you wish. You can use images in publications with no restrictions on the number of copies published. You can use them to create products on sites like Café Press or Zazzle. If you are selling a product, you can make as many products as you like.

Our single restriction is this: You may not reproduce any VictorianVoices.net image collection as a whole or in part to resell as your own image collection, either in print or electronically, or in any other format now known or likely to become available in the future (including Klingon data crystals). If you wish to use a selection of images in a different type of collection (for example, if you wished to use a collection of quilt patterns in a larger collection of Victorian quilt patterns), please contact us for permission at editors@victorianvoices.net.

Your purchase of any image and/or print collection from VictorianVoices.net or our associated Etsy store constitutes your acceptance of these terms.
